2023 STUDENT PROJECT

eLex is an AI-powered platform that can help startup businesses stay up-to-date with changing regulations by monitoring legal developments and providing actionable insights. This could include recommending changes to business processes or identifying potential compliance risks. Also, a platform can help businesses manage their intellectual property by automatically identifying and tracking patents, trademarks, and copyrights. This also includes monitoring for potential infringement and notifying the company of potential threats.

INTRODUCTION

In the fast-paced world of startups, particularly in a digitally advanced country like Estonia, staying up-to-date with changing regulations and managing intellectual property can be challenging. Estonia, recognized as one of the world's most digitally advanced societies, boasts a vibrant startup scene. However, the legal landscape remains complex, and non-compliance or IP infringement can result in significant costs. This is where eLex, an innovative solution born out of Estonia, steps in.

- Comprehensive Coverage: eLex provides wide-ranging legal development monitoring and intellectual property management.
- Actionable Insights: Get straightforward recommendations for business process adjustments and risk management.
- Real-Time Updates: Never miss a legal development with our prompt notifications and updates eLex leverages advanced AI technology to monitor legal developments and intellectual property databases. Our platform automatically identifies and tracks patents, trademarks, and copyrights and also monitors for potential infringement. On the regulatory compliance front, eLex keeps an eye on changes in regulations from relevant bodies, providing real-time updates and recommendations.

STRENGTHS

METHOD

SOLUTION

- Stay informed about changing regulations: We monitor regulatory bodies and provide real-time updates and recommendations to help you adjust your operations as necessary and avoid potential legal issues.
- Manage intellectual property efficiently: We automatically identify and track your patents, trademarks, and copyrights, monitor for potential infringements, and notify you of any potential threats.
